My name is Oleh. Soon I will turn 30 years old. I was born in March, 1991 in Khashchuvate village. I have an ordinary family. My father Oleksandr works as a stocker at the House of Culture. My mom is not working right now, but still she's "our family director" running all the stuff. My elder sister works as a nurse in the kindergarten. My height is 175 cm, my weight is 84 kg.

Since my childhood I've been used to hard work in the country. I've been looking after many animals such as cattle, pigs, chicken, dogs and cats. My dad taught me how to take care about the domestic animals. Spending time with animals brought me pleasure from childhood.

Some years after finishing school I was asked to work abroad, in China. So while I've been conquering the Asia, my friend went to Denmark. He told me a lot about this wonderful country, and his feedbacks inspired me to follow his steps. I decided to connect my life with animals.

In 2017 I started studying in the Agrarian Lyceum on the faculty of veterinary and stockbreeding and graduated in 2020. During my study I had some months of practice at a livestock farm where all the students passed practice and were taught how to work with animals.

I am sure that learning by doing is the most effective and I went to do the internship in Denmark on the dairy farm of Thomas Grosen Nielsen. My responsibilities included milking cows, driving miniloader and bobman, checking cows for injuries and diseases, washing and spraying cows with water, insecticides and repellants, caring for calves, pushing the cows into the hoof-trimming box, cleaning the slurry around the milking place, repairing and lubricating equipment, reporting data.

My skills of English are pretty high for any kind of communication. Also I can understand a little bit of Danish. I speak Russian very well. Ukrainian is my native language. I have a driving license and an experience of driving different vehicles (car, miniloader, bobman and a little bit tractor). As for my hobbies I am fond of volleyball, football, swimming, diving, running, hiking, reading, collecting coins, translating.

Now I have the relevant education and experience, and I am looking for the seasonal job in Norway. Norwegian agriculture is one of the best and I would be thankful for the opportunity to work on one of the dairy farms.

Regards,

Oleh
