Autobiography

---

My name is Andrii. I'm 31 years old. I'm from Andrushivka, Zhytomyr region. I have family of four. My parents are veterinarians, and they like their job very much. My sister Lesia is a nurse. I'm single and don't have children.

My height is 180 cm, weight 83 kg.

Speaking of my childhood, I have always been associated with working on land and with animals. My family owns several acres of land where we grow corn, potatoes and wheat to feed our domestic animals. We also care for a large vegetable garden with various varieties of plants. I always was fond of caring for plants and dreamed to connect my life with this activity.

After school I spent several years preparing coffee and tea at our local cafe. It was my first experience, and it taught me responsibility and accuracy. Then I decided to try myself in the veterinary medicine. I had a training period on a modern dairy farm in Denmark. I worked there for eighteen months, from November 2012, to May 2014. I got skills in milking,

feeding and watering calves,

mixing fodder,

moving animals,

cleaning and washing of stables.

Returning to Ukraine, I continued to work in the dairy sector. I worked on a dairy farm in my native region.

I started to get agronomic education in 2016 when I joined Agrarian Lyceum. I studied well. I currently have an agronomy diploma.

As for my driving skills, I can drive a car and a lorry. I have a relevant driver's licence.

My main hobby is reading books. Also I like learning new languages, that is why I can communicate in English. I'm fond of sport, too.

The main point of my trip is improving of my knowledge and practical skills, getting touch with new culture and visit highly developed country - Norway. I would like to get a place of a seasonal worker on a plant farm.

Regards,

Andrii
